

OBSERVANCE OF NATIONAL FLAG DAY
OBSERVED BY NSS UNIT
UNIVERSITY B.T. & EVENING COLLEGE
COOCH BEHAR

National Flag Day in India is celebrated every year on July 22 to remember the day the country adopted its official flag. On July 22, 1947, the Constituent Assembly chose the modern tricolour, or Tiranga , just before India became free.

National Flag Day is observed every year to honour the Tiranga and to instill respect, unity, and patriotism among students and staff. University B.T. & Evening College, Cooch Behar observed the day with active participation from faculty members, NSS volunteers, college students, and non-teaching staff.

OBJECTIVES OF THE PROGRAM

To create awareness about the significance of the National Flag and the Flag Code of India. To foster a spirit of nationalism and unity among students. To pay tribute to freedom fighters and the sacrifices made for the country.

The Principal, in the concluding address, appreciated the efforts of the NSS student volunteers. She urged students to carry forward the values represented by the Tiranga in their academic and personal lives.

The program ended with a vote of thanks and National Song. The observance successfully created awareness about national symbols and strengthened the sense of responsibility among students towards the country.
