RAKSHA BANDHAN

On the auspicious occasion of Raksha Bandhan, the NSS volunteers of University B.T.& Evening college visited the Cooch Behar District Correctional Home to celebrate the festival of unity and brotherhood with the inmates in collaboration with District Legal Services Authority (DLSA), Cooch Behar. The objective of the programme was to extend a message of love, humanity, and social inclusion to those who are away from mainstream society.

The NSS volunteers reached the Correctional Home premises at 1:00 PM. After initial formalities, the volunteers interacted with the inmates. As part of the celebration, the female volunteers tied Rakhis on the wrists of the inmates, while male volunteers also participated by tying rakhis and exchanging greetings. Chocolates were distributed among all.

This symbolic gesture was not just a ritual, but an effort to make the inmates feel that they are not isolated from society. The volunteers conveyed the message that Raksha Bandhan is not limited to blood relations, but it is a festival of unity, solidarity, harmony, and humanity. The DLSA Secretary Madam, and Jailer of Cooch Behar Correctional Home in their brief address, highlighted the importance of reformatory justice and the need to treat inmates with dignity and give them a chance to reintegrate into society. The Jailer Sir also appreciated the initiative taken by the NSS Unit.

The Raksha Bandhan celebration at Cooch Behar Correctional Home was an emotionally touching and meaningful experience for both the volunteers and the inmates. It truly reflected the NSS motto – "NOT ME BUT YOU."

The NSS Unit expresses it's heartfelt gratitude to the Secretary, DLSA Cooch Behar, the Jailer of Cooch Behar Correctional Home, and all officials for their wholehearted cooperation.

Unity, mutual respect, and the collective responsibility to protect and care for one another in the community.
